The UN's 50th Anniversary Medal

The United Nations held it's 50th anniversary in 1995. Many UN Veterans quite naturally wished to have a memory in the way of a medal or similar to remind them of the day.

The medal can be received by all international military-, police- and civilian personnel who have taken part in UN missions throughout the world.

The UN's 50th Anniversary Medal, which is approved by - The President of The Nordic Blue Berets - is regarded as personal property.

A short description of the medal:

Obverse:

The UN globe symbol with wreath in gold enamel on a white enamel background. Cross in blue enamel with metal frames. Spear in blue enamel with gilt metal frame and balls of gilt metal enamel on the other side of the spear. Text at the top of the cross - 1945 – and at the bottom - 1995. Star with five spears in gold metal with text UN in the middle.

Reverse:

Blue beret of light blue enamel on a white background. Cross and spear of light blue enamel with gilt metal frame.

The medal is carried on a light blue ribbon with dark blue colored ribbon running vertically downwards, surrounded by white (proportionally 2, 1 and 4 between light blue, white and dark blue colors).

Along with - The UN's 50th Anniversary Medal - follows a CERTIFICATE bearing your name and military rank. The Certificate is signed by - The President of The Nordic Blue Berets - (anniversary year).

As this medal is a Commemorative Medal serving and retired military personnel should wear it in accordance with the medal regulations which exist in their own country.

The International Veteran Millennium Medal 2000.

Skandinavisk Handels Kompagni have from veterans and veteran associations all over the world been encouraged to produce this commemorative medal that can be awarded to ALL persons who have done military-, police or other civil UN/NATO service and at the same time are members of a military-, police- or veteran association.

The medal is to be SYMBOL of - and a MEMORY of - the important contribution you have made to peace in the past millennium.

A short description of the medal:

In order to make the medal quite special and unique, we have chosen to NUMBER THE MEDALS INDIVIDUALLY so that no medal is alike.

The motif of the front of the medal symbolizes five marching persons, men and women, from different services.

The back of the medal is embossed with a leaf wreath that surrounds the individual number.

The medals is made in bronze and passed through an elegant antic copper treatment.

The ribbon itself has a deep and profound meaning. The BLACK color represents Deceased Comrades and the Black Out that was endured during the war years. The RED color represents the dangers of military service. The GREEN color is rich and patriotic representative of the green land we live in.

Along with - The International Millennium Medal 2000 - follows a CERTIFICATE bearing your name and military rank.

As this medal is a Commemorative Medal serving and retired military personnel should wear it in accordance with the medal regulations which exist in their own country.

The International Volunteers Foreign Service Medal.

Over the past number of years SHK have been inundated with queries from Peacekeepers - service and retired - all over the world concerning the manufacture and issue of a Foreign Service Medal. Many of these peacekeepers would have served on "Back to Back" Peacekeeping / Peace Enforcing Missions with the UN, NATO, or EU and felt that a visible sign of recognition in the form of a medal combining UN, NATO and EU Peacekeeping Service would be appropriate.

You are entitled to receive the medal, if you as military, police or civilian, has conducted a total service for 30 days or more in a UN, NATO or EU military mission.

A short description of the medal:

Obverse:

On top half of medal disk, grouped together are the symbols of the UN, NATO and EU. Underneath these symbols is a helmet of the type worn by our troops on peacekeeping/peace enforcing missions. The helmet is in gold crowned by laurel leaves, the symbol of the honour, loyalty and bravery of the wearer.

Reverse:

Blue gilt on which the medals 4 mains symbols are depicted. These are surrounded by a circular white band, which reads - The International Volunteers Foreign Service Medal - in gold.

The medal is carried on a ribbon with the colors - Red Green, Blue and White

Along with - The International Volunteers Foreign Service Medal - follows a CERTIFICATE bearing your name and military rank.

As this medal is a Commemorative Medal serving and retired military personnel should wear it in accordance with the medal regulations which exist in their own country.
